News Digest.

The steamer Defender struck a snag near Leech on the Mississippi, on Saturday, and sank. The boat and cargo are a total loss. Three lives were lost by the accident.

We have accounts of fires at St. Johns, Mich., and Vincennes, Ind. The amount of property destroyed at the former place is $30,000, and at the latter $10,000.

Among the confirmations by the Senate on Saturday, we note the names of Gen. WILKINSON, as Postmaster of Watertown, in this State, and N. JOY, as Postmaster of Racine.

It is reported that the Administration advises to the possession of San Juan Island, and have notified the British Government to that effect.

A despatch from Norfolk, Va., says that the celebrated Dismal Swamp is on fire, and that the flames are raging with much violence.

The Vote for Chief Justice.

We have some additional returns, official, this morning, of the vote for Chief Justice. They do not certainly settle the question, but render it probable that Chief Justice DIXON is elected by some 500 majority.

The Treasurer and the City Attorney.

Our Democratic City Attorney, Mr. LA DUE, has notified the Common Council that, in his judgment, the election for City Treasurer is void, because the successful Republican candidate, Mr. TESCH, was a member of the Common Council, when elected. The disability, under the charter, ceased, before Mr. TESCH's term of office, as Treasurer, commenced. Nevertheless Democratic authority rules him out.

Now look at the case of the City Attorney himself. The News, in answer to our correspondent "LEX," says:

> A correspondent of the SENTINEL endeavors to carry the idea that Mr. La Due is ineligible to the office of City Attorney because he is a U. S. Court Commissioner, when the Constitution provides that no person holding any office or trust under the United States," shall be elected an officer of this State. In answer we would say that Mr. La Due holds no "office of profit or trust under the United States," nor is he an officer of the state, so the clause quoted is inapplicable.

The News mis quotes the Constitution, in order to make a case for Mr. LA DUE. Here is what the Constitution says on the subject:

> "No member of Congress, nor any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States, Postmasters excepted, shall be eligible to any office of trust, honor or profit in this State."

Mr. LA DUE was, at the time of his election, and is still, a U. S. Court Commissioner. This is an "office of profit, or trust under the United States." Consequently, Mr. LA DUE is "ineligible to any office of trust, honor, or profit in this State." If the City Charter bars out Mr. TESCH, as Treasurer, the State Constitution certainly disqualifies Mr. LA DUE. Does our Democratic Common Council intend to adopt one rule, to exclude Mr. TESCH, and another to retain Mr. LA DUE!

WISCONSIN JUDICIAL ELECTION.—The returns from Wisconsin indicate that after all Judge SLOAN is elected. His opponent, Judge DIXON, was a Republican, as is also Judge SLOAN. The latter, however, is opposed to the Fugitive Slave law, and believes it to be unconstitutional. In the former does not.—Chicago Democrat.

Our Chicago contemporary is slightly in error. Judge DIXON, like Judge SLOAN, is a Republican and regards the Fugitive Slave Act as inhuman and unconstitutional. The only point of difference between them was as to the appellate jurisdiction of the United States Supreme Court in cases arising under said Act.

Truly yours, E. B. LIVINGSTON.

THE POTTER AND PRYOR DUEL.—It seems that Mr. Potter, of Wisconsin, has pretty effectually taken the starch out of the chivalry of Virginia, and compelled the haughty and insolent Roger A. Pryor to show the white feather.

"Muskets, buckshot and twenty paces" was the response of the lamented Bissell to Jefferson Davis, when summoned to mortal combat, and the Mississippian "took water." So now, a fair hand to hand fight is proposed and the Virginian is seized with a tremor second only to that occasioned by the Harper's Ferry cow!

Thus it is with these fire-eaters, duellists by practice and profession; they bully and insult northern men, in the hope of luring them into an unequal combat. So soon as they are required to risk their miserable lives even their boasted courage, like that of Bob Acres, "oozes out."—Chicago Journal.

Mr. Pryor is fairly cowed by Mr. Potter. Pryor is a vain man and a good pistol shot. The prospect of being cut to pieces with bowie-knives, and having his Apollo-Belvidersh face (as he thinks it) disfigured with ghastly scars, he thinks barbarous and vulgar. Chivalrous Mr. Pryor! Bold Mr. Pryor! Heroic Mr. Pryor!—Cin. Gazette.

FIRE AT OSHKOSH.—Two barns, one belonging to Ald. Schaub, and one to John Webster, situated on Madison Street, in the Fourth Ward, were destroyed by fire last Saturday night, together with most of their contents, consisting of hay, grain, harness, &c. Mr Schaub's loss amounted to about $200, and was fully covered by insurance. Mr. Webster lost nearly the same amount and was not insured. The origen of the fire is unknown, but supposed to be the work of an incendiary.—Courier.

A Candidate and His Platform.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14th, 1860.

MESSRS EDITORS:—I hope you will coincide with me in the liberal opinion that it is right in all cases to give our opinions candidly on all subjects and matters for the public good, and welfare of all the people.

Each of the two political parties, which include more than nine-tenths of all the voters, has its platform, and I hope to be excused from any censure for giving my platform on which I propose to appear before the country in opposition to the Hon. STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS, next fall, as a private individual, for a very large wager or bet.—His platform, although somewhat mysterious, is known, and he has had twelve years to make and mature it. My platform, having but few planks in it, I offer, from the impulse of the moment, in a plain, comprehensive form which all will understand, and as I fondly hope fall in with, both North and South, East and West. I think it peculiarly applicable to the present crisis which looms up before us in alarming solemnity.

The first plank in my platform is the Pacific Railroad, which ought to have been built and in use years ago, and the reluctant omission stands charged to the four last Presidents as a grave error never to be forgiven by our country.

The Pacific Railroad has been my darling pet for more than twenty years. I have used much of my time and money, for which I claim the support of all, and as a reward the first gift in the hands of the people; anything short might hereafter be found recorded in history as ungrateful.

The second plank in my platform is the whole Union as it is, including the whole continent between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, with a few side cuts of some of the islands as our interests and convenience may require. Nature seems to have marked out our continent for one vast republic, washed as it is by the two great oceans of the world, on the surfaces of which floats nine-tenths of all the commerce of the world.

Third plank of my platform is equal rights to all sections of the country in strict conformity to the constitution, and all violations to be promptly and rigidly punished.

Fourth plank is to alter the constitution to eight years term of the President, and never to re-elect a second time. This would give us at least six years quiet repose, do away with all fraudulent pipe-laying for re-election, restore the dignity of the office and remedy ten thousand evils which now exists.

Fifth plank is that I would not give an office to any man who asked for it, and get rid of all those perplexities of solicitation, and deceptions, causing bad appointments to important offices.

Sixth and last platform is to settle the slavery question to the full satisfaction of all concerned. This I would do by taking both the Northern and Southern extremists and and fanatics and smash them right up together with such violence as to annihilate them, and leave only the stains of treason and disgrace behind. If occasion should require I may further explain on this matter.

This short and comprehensive platform I propose to run on against Mr. DOUGLAS, and I will bet him one hundred thousand dollars that I will get more votes on it in Illinois than he will on his platform; and farther, I will bet him, or any, or all his political friends and supporters five hundred thousand dollars that I will beat him in all the States in the sum total of all the votes given. The Republicans are very anxious to have Mr. DOUGLAS get the nomination at Charleston, for they know he is the easiest bent. But I think he knows better than to take the nomination and be killed entirely. "He that runs away, may live to fight another day." With high respect I remain yours sincerely.

GEN. H. CARVER.

The Pryor and Potter Duel—How the Affair Stands—No Fight.

Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial.

WASHINGTON, April 13.

EDS. COM:—Pryor refuses to fight Potter. Last evening, the latter notified the former, through his friend Col. Lander, Superintendent of the Overland Wagon Road, that he would fight him in the District, or out of it, with Bowie knives. The battle should come off in a room or the open air. The principals should stand four feet apart, and at a given word should commence. Pryor was to name his time within twelve hours. At about eleven o'clock last evening he declined to meet Potter in the mode designated, asserting it to be "barbarous." Col. Lander then notified Cheslam, the friend of Pryor, that as his principal, Pryor, did not like the mode of combat, named by Potter, because it was barbarous, he, Lander, would inform Cheslam, Pryor & Co., that he considered the entire code barbarous, but recognizing it fully himself, he would consent to act as a substitute for his principal, and fight either Cheslam or Pryor, on their own terms.

This courteous offer was respectfully declined by Cheslam, on the ground that neither he nor Pryor had any quarrel with Lander. Potter, although representing Wisconsin, is a native of Maine, and Lander is a native of Massachusetts. The correspondence has closed and Mr. Potter took his seat in the House to-day, amid the general greeting of gentlemen North and South. The universal opinion here is that Mr. Potter bears off the palm and the Virginia Hotspur has been driven to the wall. Lander's conduct is highly applauded.

It is stated here upon reliable authority, that the celebrated Twelfth of July letter which Gov. Walker so long held in terrorum over the President has been surrendered to him.

This was the letter instructing Gov. Walker what policy he should pursue in Kansas, which the Governor declared he carried out during his administration there, but which the President afterwards repudiated. This surrender may involve an exposure of one of the deepest laid schemes of fraud that ever came before the public. S. P.

The Wisconsin Silver Mines.

MR. EDITOR.—On the Upper Trempeleau has been discovered what is supposed by competent judges, an old silver mine; it is located in the town of Alma, Jackson Co.—The discovery has been recently made by reliable men, who are at this time at the diggings, working for the precious metal, and have some ten men at work. I was at the mine last week, and two of the Company showed me over the ridge that is supposed to contain millions of gold, silver, and other metal. I looked over this vast pile of rocky, shining flint that glistened in the sunbeams, with here and there a cavern running in a downward direction in the bowels of the earth, with wonder and astonishment. I beheld the work of men's hands, costing not less than $50,000, that seemed to have been done over one hundred years ago. I was shown a rock that had the mark of the pick or other instrument upon it; there has been, no doubt, millions of wealth taken out of these mountains, and millions yet remain concealed.

I send you specimens of the quartz which I picked up from the ground; this sample is not near so good as I have seen. The distance from New Lisbon to the mines is 70 miles, and about one half the way is a first class hotel, where people can find a pleasant stopping place, kept by H. B. Mills. I understand that it is proposed to start a paper at the mine, called the Silver Miner. I will send you a copy as soon as it makes its appearance. L. R. GEORGE.

—New Lisbon Republican.

ASTOUNDING FAILURE.—The New Orleans Bulletin of Friday week says:

> "There was an immense deal of excitement in commercial circles yesterday, consequent upon the failure of one of our largest cotton brokers, Mr. W. E. Starks, whose cash liabilities are variously stated at from $350,000 to $400,000. We learn that the Sheriff has attached 4,000 bales of cotton, a portion of his recent purchases, not yet shipped or relieved from the seller's lien. The losses are divided between a considerable number of parties, all of whom are believed to be abundantly able to bear them. This, we believe, is the largest failure of the kind that has occurred in New Orleans for many years.

THE CITY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

☞ THOSE HAVING BUILDINGS TO LET, or in want of tenements, should bear in mind that the prices for Advertising in the SENTINEL have been reduced, and that Advertisements of tenements "TO LET," or "WANTED," will be inserted in our special columns under those heads, ONCE for FIFTY CENTS, and THREE TIMES at the low price of ONE DOLLAR—thus affording persons who want tenants or tenements on the 1st of May, an easy and cheap mode of finding them without paying commissions or spending days in search of Houses. This is a reduction of ONE HUNDRED PER CENT. on our last year's rates of this class of Advertisements.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble out or IN, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

THERE IS AN old woman who can't be induced to enter the Academy of Music, because she thinks it will fall down. This old lady has been told that the building is as stoutly built as any other in the city; that it has iron columns running from foundation up; that massive beams and girders cross and underlie it; that stout brick work and rods of iron and huge arches sustain and strengthen it, but the old lady don't know what might happen. Other buildings have fallen, and this one may! It is no use trying to convince the dear creature, but for the benefit of those who are not old ladies, we presume to say again, that the Academy of Music is, in the estimation of all good judges, sufficiently strong to hold any and all that can be put into it. Skeptical persons have gone about the foundation with microscopes and inspected every stone and brick; they have poked about under the floors and measured the beams; they have estimated the strength of the walls as a physician would one's lungs—by pounding; and scrutinized stanchions, and some away satisfied that the building would even bear the pressure of several audiences and two or three mortgages, without settling.

It is ridiculous to suppose, therefore, that the light-hearted audiences which will assemble to hear the WEBB family, and that most original and celebrated of all the O'NEILLS, will endanger the building. Besides we are led to infer that the class of pieces put upon the stage will not be very heavy ones, so that any anxiety in that respect is removed.

To-morrow the Theatre is to be inaugurated, by a vaudeville company of great promise. We hope a crowd will be in attendance to hear and see them. The WEBB sisters are really pretty and accomplished, and the gentlemen, actors of a popular school.

A prologue written by a gentleman of this city will be spoken by one of the ladies prior to the first act. We hear the composition highly spoken of. Let us see if we cannot settle the foolish talk of the insecurity of this staunch building, by trying our best to break it down.

THE CITY OF CLEVELAND.—This fast and substantial steamer, now lying in our river, is about to take on a full cargo of flour—say 2,500 to 3,000 barrels—for Buffalo. She will leave here early next week, under the charge of Captain Cross, late of the Milwaukee—as thorough a seaman and competent an officer, as can be found anywhere. We hope that the owners of the City of Cleveland will decide to run her, during the year, between Buffalo, Milwaukee and Chicago, with Captain CROSS in command. She could not fail to secure ample freights and plenty of passengers.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The Winter and Spring term of our Public Schools ends on Friday of this week, and the last two or three days, in each of the schools, will be devoted to review and examination. We hope that our citizens generally, and especially those who have children attending the schools, will visit them during the present week and see for themselves what our schools are doing. Tax-payers, who think the cost of the schools too great, would do well to improve this opportunity of noting and deciding upon their claims to public favor and support.

THE MUSICAL SOCIETY.—The Atlas has an article apparently in reply to what we said the other day, about the opposition to the Musical Society. We have had our "say" about the matter, telling just what we thought about it, and have no desire to carry on a fruitless discussion upon the subject.—Wisconsin.

In other words, "we" having attacked one party, don't intend the other shall say anything in reply. We have made up our mind that one party is wrong and we don't want to be convinced to the contrary. We have insinuated that there was "foul play" somewhere's, but we don't intend to be drawn into any discussion which will make us substantiate or retract.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.—The day for the great international "mill" between Heenan and Sayers, was last Friday instead of to-day, as stated by the SENTINEL of this morning.—The time was changed from the 16th to the 13th.—Wisconsin of last evening.

WILKES, in his last letter, states emphatically that he knew of no such change, and himself states that he believes the time "unchanged." The Wisconsin's information is gleaned from the New York Clipper, and from all that is known is wrong.

SUICIDE.—On Sunday morning last Mr. GUSTAVE KALIKHOFF was found dead in his bed, at his residence. It became evident, after an examination, that he had poisoned himself. An inquest was at once held, and a verdict in accordance with the above, rendered. Mr. KALIKHOFF was an intelligent man and had numerous friends. The rash act was not anticipated, and no cause can be assigned for it but domestic trouble.

A YOUNG MAN while navigating a skiff about Spring Street Bridge yesterday, capsized and was thrown into the river. A boat manned by the redoubtable CLODIUS and a friend, some little distance off, gallantly started to the rescue, but owing to the fact that our musical friend was not "well up" in rowing, it was some time before the unfortunate individual was rescued.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE CURRENT YEAR.—The Common Council meet in joint Convention, some time next week, to elect School Commissioners for the ensuing year. There are numerous candidates for these offices. We think that the Common Council will scrutinize the list carefully and make a good selection. There is abundant material to make up an excellent Board.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER EVISTON.—We find by looking over the report of the Fire Department for the last year, that the total amount of loss by fire in this city since March 21, 1858, is no less a sum than $125,620, not as was stated in yesterday's paper, through the blunder of the printer, $12,562,000.

THIRD WARD ROWDIES.—On Sunday evening a number of young men were assaulted in Michigan Street by a crowd of "loafers" who make it a point to congregate about the corners of this street on Sundays and insult peaceable people.

CALEB WALL has the following sales this week:

Thursday, April 19, at 10 o'clock, he sells all that superfine Furniture of C. A. BELDEN's, at his residence, corner of Martin and Lake streets. Call at WALL's Auction Room and get a catalogue.

Friday morning, April 20th, at 10 o'clock, he sells the entire stock of crockery, china ware, glass ware, &c., at HURD's store, No. 144 East Water St.

MUNICIPAL COURT, April 16.—Ellen Hayes, vagrancy, case continued till the 17th inst., at half-past 8 A. M.

Mary Ann Jackson, vagrancy, fined $10 and costs; given twenty-four hours to leave the city.

Andrew Pilegrine, larceny of two rings from Mr. Webber, the jeweler. Plead guilty and fined $10. Paid.

SINCE SATURDAY, April 7th, forty additional families have applied at the Soup House for help. On Saturday, the 14th, there were 800 applicants, among whom were distributed—besides the usual allowance of soup—five bushels of potatoes, one barrel of flour, two barrels of corn meal, eighty pounds of meat and one hundred and fifty loaves of bread.

HOLE IN THE STREET.—Some one, we will not say who, dug a great deep well hole nearly in the middle of Wisconsin Street, at the corner of Main, for the purpose of getting building sand. The precedent is a good one. Let those who may hereafter be in want of sand take up the pavement and dig.

THE UNION TICKET OFFICE on Wisconsin Street came out in great brilliancy last night. H. O. WILSON, we observed, stood near the entrance, but though he is a bright and shining light—we do not therefore mean to say that all the effulgence came from him.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The box office at the Academy will be open from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. to-day, so that those wishing to engage seats for the performance to-morrow night may be accommodated. No additional price charged.

"THE GREAT SPRING REMEDY."—See in our advertising columns Fess' notice of the "Jaundice Bitters," which are the "Great Spring Remedy" for all the ills that flesh is heir to.

FOR OGDENSBURGH.—The Northern Transportation Company's propeller Prairie State will sail for Ogdensburgh this fore noon, touching at intermediate ports.

We are having a little rain as we write this, with a promise above of more. It is very acceptable.

LARGE SHIPMENTS.—The shipments of wheat by Lake yesterday amounted to upwards of sixty nine thousand bushels.

FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, April 16—3 P. M.

As a number of the opposition will pair off with the Democratic members who are going to Charleston, and will avail themselves of this arrangement to visit their homes, it is probable that scarcely a quorum will be left to attend to public business.

David A. Brown, who has recently returned from Utah, in a lecture last evening, refuted the statement of Mr. Hooper, the delegate from that Territory, that the Mormons have coinage of their own, and exhibited some of their money, which the authorities have forced into circulation, to show that it is thirty per cent below the national standard.

It is said that the administration adheres to the possession of San Juan Island, and that in response to the proposition of the British Government, the latter has by this time been informed.

Mr. Stockton, Chaplain of the House, the President, Speaker Pennington, and other members of Congress, being his numerous auditors, to-day, was so pointed in his remarks, as to clearly imply his strong condemnation of the duello.

Hon. Wm. Y. Johnson, ex-Congressman from Maryland, died here to-day.

The portage between the United States and the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, by the Bremen mail, has been reduced from twenty-two cents to fifteen cents, pre-payment optional—so that the uniform rate of the latter amount is now chargeable on all letters conveyed in the Bremen mail between the United States and the States belonging to the German and Austrian postal union.

The following nominations of postmasters were confirmed by the Senate Saturday: C. B Bachus, Adrian, Michigan; John Montgomery, Marshall, Mich.; S. W. Henton, Pontiac, Mich.; Samuel Melcher, Exeter, N. H.; John H. McFarren, Lasalle, Ill.; John Massey, South Bend, Ind.; Henry M. Clerk, Booneville, Ind.; Geo. Gillet, Nebraska City; Geo. Williams, Watertown, Wis; John Converse, Delaware, O.; C. Zarby, Joliet, Ill.; N. Joy, Racine, Wis; E. Winston, Peru, Ill.; C. Weikert, Fond du Lac, Wis.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says: The Butterfield C. D. Co. is now under the control of Wells, Fargo, & Co., of N. Y. Butterfield has been disposed from the Presidency, and replaced by Wm. B. Dinsmore, of the Adams Express Company. Mr. Gardiner has also resigned the superintendency of the route, and Col Alcord, of Indiana has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

The Potter and Pryor Difficulty.

NEW YORK, April 16.—3 P. M.

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says: Saturday night the city was still afoat with various rumors to the effect that Mr. Pryor had disclaimed his second's action in rejecting Mr. Potter's terms, and had addressed Mr. Potter another note, offering to accept his proposition, which was not done under the advice of Mr. Pryor's friends.

Another is that Mr. Pryor had signified his willingness to meet Mr. Potter, in common combat, with such arms as either might choose outside the frequented walks. These rumors, as yet, have no foundation in fact, whatever purpose may be entertained. They doubtless led to the arrest of Mr. Potter yesterday morning. Mr. Pryor has not yet been held to bail, and does not intend to put himself immediately within reach of the authorities. He was in the city at the Kirkwood House, on Friday night, in company with Messrs Miles and Keitt.

Mr. Potter had arranged a fortnight ago to go home this week, but will remain in consequence of these reports. His friends do not propose to publish the correspondence now, as the main facts are understood by the public. They are, however, perfectly willing the other side should.

Col. Lander called on Mr. Keitt on Friday night to understand whether his presence, as a second of Mr. Potter, was any longer necessary in connection with the affair, and was answered that it was not.

Many of Mr. Pryor's personal and political friends entertain the opinion that he unnecessarily thrust this quarrel on Mr. Potter, and having assumed an attitude in the House, which was followed up by a peremptory challenge, he was bound to accept any weapons. Others sustain his course throughout.

Spanish Ambassador.

NEW YORK, April 12—3 P. M.

The Hon. Wm. Preston, Ambassador to Spain, has returned by the Arabico, and proceeded to Washington. It is asserted that he has negotiated a treaty with the Queen's government whereby all questions hitherto in issue between the two nations are adjusted, and most amicable relations re-established.

A despatch from Washington says the President has decided to remove Geo. N. Sanders from the post of Navy Agent at this port. He is a Douglas man.

ST. JOHNS, April 16—3 P. M.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

☞ Owing to the prevalence of a storm at the East we are without our usual evening report.

German Republican Movement—Call of the German Republican Central Committee of New York.

Referring to our resolution published some time ago, in regard to a meeting of the German Republican Convention at Chicago—which has since been endorsed by the greater portion of the German Press, and by many of our Socities—we now repeat our proposition, to have three delegates elected from every State in which there are German Republican Clubs, for the above-mentioned Convention, to be held in Chicago on the 14th May, 1860. We expect that, in consideration of the importance of this question, by which, for the first time, a German Republican organization will be effected, and we thus acquire an independent position within the party, no State will stand aloof from this movement, and that all scruples in regard to its expediency will be laid aside. The platform which we wish to have accepted, and the candidates we desire to see nominated in Chicago, can only be secured by this course.

Let all Clubs and Societies extend to us, therefore, the hand of brotherhood, that the work, once begun, may not be destroyed by petty objections, and thus do us more damage than good among the Americans.

Any objections, which may have been raised in regard to the Platform proposed by us, can best be settled by the Convention.

We would request to be notified of the success of the elections, at least by the 10th of May, and to have the returns sent under cover to our President.

New York, April 9, 1860.

MONETARY.

MONDAY, P. M., April 16, 1860.

Exchange firm at 2 ⅜ cent premium, supply about equal to the demand. Currency plenty for all business purposes.

MONEY MATTERS AT ST. LOUIS.—The St. Louis Democrat says:

The assorting business is now resorted to pretty extensively on the accessible branches of all the Missouri Banks, for the purpose of procuring exchange. This, among other things, adds to the scarcity of bankable funds. Illinois and Wisconsin currency, which is fluctuated considerably this week and last, one day very scarce and the next in abundance; but mostly scarcer than usual at this season of the year. The small supply and high rate of Eastern exchange help to make currency scarce, as it is sent pretty largely to Chicago to invest in Exchange, which is sold in St. Louis at ¼@¾ advance. Selling rates of Sight on the South remain at ⅛ prem. for bankable funds, and 1¾ on the East.

Time bills on New York are negotiated at about ¾ @ cent. off for 30 days, 1@1¼ for 60 days, and 2½ for 90 days.

THE SENTINEL.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 17, 1860.

Presidential Election!

THE GREAT CAMPAIGN

IS AT HAND!!

Let Every Republican Prepare for the Conflict!!

Circulate Truth among the People!!

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL

Six Months for Less than Cost of Paper and Printing!!!

READ AND BE CONVINCED!

The approaching campaign is to be a memorable one. The battle will be fought zealously between the friends and the enemies of Freedom, and the ground contested inch by inch. In view of these facts, it is apparent that the dissemination of Republican papers and documents becomes of vast and vital importance. In order to furnish the WEEKLY SENTINEL to the people of the North-West, during the Campaign of 1860, we have concluded to offer the paper, FROM THE 10TH OF MAY TO THE 10TH OF NOVEMBER, at the following unprecedented liberal terms:

| | |
|---|---|
| One Copy for - - - - | $0 50 |
| Twenty Copies, (to one address) - | $9 00 |
| Fifty " " " - | $20 00 |
| One Hundred do " " - | $35 00 |

These terms will barely cover the cost of paper before it is printed; but we have determined to put the price so low that every individual Republican, or Organized Club, in this or adjoining States, will use their best endeavors to scatter the SENTINEL broadcast in their particular localities, and thus accomplish more than by the circulation of ten times as many documents in any other form. Every Campaign subscriber will receive the Proceedings of the National Convention, to be held in May, and full returns of the election in November.

We need not urge upon our Republican friends the importance of placing this sheet in the hands of all. Let NO VOTER, or family in the State, be without the SENTINEL during the Campaign. Wheresoever facts are read, and the people have access to truth, Republicanism prevails.

Send in your orders as early in May as possible. ☞ Address

JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN.

MILWAUKEE, April 9, 1860.

☞ REPUBLICAN PAPERS in this State, with whom we exchange, will please publish the above, or the substance of it, one or two times, and thereby lay us under additional obligation for the favor.

Wigfall Again.

The illustrious WIGFALL, the model Democratic Senator from TEXAS, has again been distinguishing himself in the Council Chamber of the Republic. On Wednesday, during the debate on the Homestead Bill, the following colloquy occurred:

Mr. Wigfall, (Dem. Texas) further discussed the subject. He was tired of this twaddle about the people, denied that the Homestead Bill was a Democratic measure, and asked: "When did it become a part of their platform." It has been adopted by the Republicans and denounced to cut the throats of the Southerners.—Anybody who denies that this Government is a compact between the States is no Democrat. He reiterated that the Homestead Bill constituted a part of the Republican platform.

Mr. Pugh (Dem. Ohio)—Where do you find it in the Republican platform?

Mr. Wigfall (pointing to Mr. Seward and Lord Lyons who were talking together on one of the sofas.)—There it is, talking to Lord Lyons. The British Minister and the platform are together.

We do not understand why this piece of impertinence, not only towards Gov. SEWARD, but to the British Minister, was not rebuked on the spot by the Vice-President, or some Member of the Senate. General HOUSTON should give his colleague some lessons in Parliamentary manners.

An Awkward Record.

It will be remembered that near the close of the struggle for Speaker of the present House, the votes of the Democrats, with a few exceptions were concentrated on W. N. H. SMITH, of North Carolina, (American) carrying him up to 112, which all but elected him. Among those who voted for Mr. SMITH were MORRIS, ROBINSON, MCCLERNAND, FOUKE and LOGAN of Illinois, and LABRADEE of Wisconsin. Mr. ADRAIN, of New Jersey, in response to an inquiry, has written the following letter, which we commend to the special attention of the adopted citizens of Illinois and Wisconsin, who vote the Democratic ticket:

WASHINGTON, March 10, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—I received your letter of the 3rd inst., and cheerfully give you such knowledge as I possess, respecting the political views of the Hon. Mr. SMITH, of North Carolina, on the subject to which you refer, who was a candidate for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives, and for whom the Hon. Mr. Allen, of your State, refused to cast his vote.

In a conversation which I had with Mr. Smith, a few days after the election of Mr. Pennington as Speaker, he remarked to me that he was supported by the American party in his district, for Congress, and that he had been misrepresented on the floor of the House, by several Democratic members, who stated that he had repudiated the principles of that party; that in his opinion, the period of five years for naturalization was altogether too short, and that in his published speeches throughout his district, when running as a candidate for Congress, he advocated its extension to at least ten years.

During the same conversation, he expressed his views on the Slavery question, maintaining that Congress should intervene and protect slave property in the Territories, if necessary, and utterly rejecting the great Democratic doctrine of Popular Sovereignty.

Without extending this letter further, I would remark, that this is about the substance of the conversation which I had with Mr. Smith. Yours truly,

G. B. ADRAIN.

OSHKOSH, AS SEEN LAST WEEK.

Oshkosh—Its Settlement, Growth, and Position—Wolf and Fox Rivers—Steamboats—Manner of Towing Rafts—Lumber Trade—The City Since the Great Fire—New Buildings—Various Local Events.

DEAR MILWAUKEE SENTINEL:—My travels in Wisconsin for the present season began at Oshkosh, as they did last season. Again I enjoyed the swift smooth riding on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, as it passes over the pleasant plains and oak openings of Dodge and Fond du Lac counties; again the train shot through the sixteen miles of dark woods from Fond du Lac Northward; and then the broad expanse of Lake Winnebago, dancing and sparkling in the moonshine, broke upon my view, and its waves splashed against the embankment beneath us; again I was escorted by the everlasting somnambulistic darkie of the Adams House, to that excellent hotel, riding over the long floating bridge, which has such a peculiarly miserable motion when a strong sea is running into the river, that it made me really sea-sick.

The population of Oshkosh is from 10,000 to 12,000 It has probably the largest commerce of any city in the State, except Milwaukee. The first house was built there in 1837. In 1846 I saw it mentioned in a Boston paper as "a small thriving settlement on Lake Winnebago, at the mouth of Fox River." Three years ago the population was 8,400.

The town was not settled by wealthy men, nor has it grown up under the influence of speculation; but to meet the requirements of the vast country for which it is naturally the only market. It must control the bulk of the trade of Wolf and Fox River Valleys as long as those great rivers exist, a commerce whose limits it is yet impossible to discern.

The Wolf River runs into the Fox a few miles above the city, coming from the north, through an interminable forest of valuable pine timber. The Fox comes from the west, through one of the most splendid agricultural regions in America—the counties of Marquette, Green Lake and Winnebago. This river, at Oshkosh is about 40 rods wide, and 30 feet deep.

The steamboats Pearl and Wolf ply alternately between Oshkosh and New London, on Wolf river, one of them leaving every morning at seven. A smaller boat is running above New London—probably from there to Shawano, 100 miles from Oshkosh by the river. The Knapp runs from Berlin, on the Fox river, to Oshkosh and back every day, leaving Oshkosh about noon. The Berlin City and Appleton Belle are making regular trips between Oshkosh and Green Bay, one or the other of them starting from Oshkosh every day at seven A. M. These boats do not run to Fond du Lac this season.

On the Wolf, the upper and lower Fox, and Lake Winnebago, there are twenty steamboats, including small boats for towing logs. Ten steamboats are owned in Oshkosh, with an aggregate tonnage of seven hundred. The Berlin City and Pearl are side-wheel boast, fast and comfortable.

The method of towing logs, practiced here, struck me as novel enough to merit a description. The tug boats carry, near the bow, a perpendicular beam, hooked at the lower end; this is called the "grouser;" when the boat is going it stands up like a mast. In an instant it may be let slide through the boat, driving itself into the bottom of the lake or river, holding the boat fast. The wheels then stand still, and the steam is applied to another shaft to wind up the rope, which draws the raft up to the boat. The "grouser" is then raised by a crank, the steam turned on the wheel shaft, and the boat shoots ahead the length of its tow-rope, when they "down grouzer" again and repeat the operation. In this way they get along pretty fast with tremendous rafts, that could scarcely be stirred by the usual manner of towing. I've spelt "grouzer" four different ways, in hopes one may be right; can't find anybody who will stand godfather to any given orthography of the word, and even WORCESTER's new dictionary comes short of the language of the Wolf river lumber community.

The immense lumber trade of Oshkosh is too well known to be much of a subject for a letter. The C. & N. W. R. R. has opened a large country to the sale of this staple, in Northern and Central Illinois; hence an increasing demand for it. It is estimated fifty to sixty million feet, in logs, are to come down the river, this season. Oshkosh, be it remembered, is the place where "the logs come down." It contains fifteen saw mills—one a gang mill, which has sawed out 42,000 feet in twelve hours. There is no water power in the vicinity.

The first time I ever saw Oshkosh, almost the entire business part of it had been laid in ruins a few days previous, and there was nothing but

"The blackness of ashes to mark where it stood,"

I was there again in two weeks, and found forty-five buildings "going up!" Now, its only here and there you can find a black spot left, and many new stores have been built on lots not occupied before; so that the city now contains many more buildings than at the time of the fire. It may be call the "Phœnix City."

The number of brick and stone fronts on Ferry street is surprising, considering that the calamity of the fire conspired with the financial severity of the times, against such improvements. Several of these stores are spacious and elegant. There are to be two or three more fine blocks erected this season; one, a stone structure, for the banking house of KELLOGG & FITZGERALD, is now in process of erection.

The new court house is nearly finished; it is a noble edifice, built of cream-colored brick, with a stone basement for a jail. It is the largest and decidedly the handsomest, court house in the State, quite unlike all the others.

The new hotel being built here by JOSEPH STRINGHAM, Esq., of Buffalo, is approaching completion. It is a large wooden house, with square roof and dormer windows—rather an unsightly affair. It is to be kept by Mr. BENTLEY: no doubt he will do well with it if any man can, but I'm afraid it is on the wrong side of the river to ever amount to much. The success of a first-rate hotel does not depend on its proximity to the railroad depots—it should be near the business of the city. The Adams' House has the best possible location for a hotel, and has acquired a reputation for being one of the nicest houses in the State, which no opposition can deprive it of, while CARTER & BARKER are the proprietors. Still, there is plenty of business for another one like it.

Life in Oshkosh can't be very dull—judging from the many matters of interest that occurred during the three days I was there, of which I will sketch a few.

The exhibition given by the scholars of the High School, drew a crowded audience in the German Theatre, and surpassed all other efforts of amateurs, I ever witnessed. The proceeds amounted to over $100, to be used for the benefit of the School. The drama of "Maurice, the Wood-cutter" and the capital farce "Who Speaks First" were performed in a style that a regular dramatic company would not be ashamed of. There were fine historical tableaux and musical selections, the whole involving seventy performers. The affair was an honor to Mr. GAYLORD, the principal, and to the School.

In the midst of the entertainments quite a panic was raised by the cry of fire, the audience supposing it to be in the theatre; a general jamming, screaming, and fainting ensued, behind the scenes and in the dressing rooms, as well as in front. On learning it was only the explosion of a fluid lamp in a saloon near by, order was restored, and the play went on. A man was shockingly burnt by the accident.

I saw an intoxicated man drive his span of horses off the bridge, while the drawer was open, drowning them both. He had already lost a leg by being caught in a 'horse-power,' while in the same condition, it was said.—One night, some careless loafer threw a stone that smashed a pane of French plate glass, seven feet by four, in one of the handsome stores on Ferry street. The same night two stables were burnt, owned by JOHN WEBSTER and Mr. SCHAUB. A propeller built for Lake and Canal navigation, was hourly expected from Albany, N. Y., when I left Oshkosh.

If interesting events are continually transpiring in that city at the rate they were kept up while I was in it, surely a local editor might luxuriate there. They have no such useful member of society however, tho' they have two dailies.

The Daily Democrat sneered at the statement in my circular, that I was desirous of obtaining such information and suggestions as might assist me in writing a letter for the SENTINEL, concerning Oshkosh; it asserted that the SENTINEL was now very anxious about the prosperity of that city, because it had a rival there, but that Litherto it had never manifested any disposition to notice the place!

Here would follow a quotation from SHAKSPEARE, if I could only get started on it; if it occurs to LOUI, he can put it in.

To say nothing of what has been selected and written concerning Oshkosh, in common with other places in the State, by the editors of the SENTINEL, its interests have been "noticed" in my correspondence, in the SENTINEL of May 28th, July 9th, October 17th and November 6th; this makes the fifth time in eleven months. It is absurd to suppose there would be any policy or motive for the SENTINEL to willfully slight any locality in the State.

I will here mention that my connection with the Milwaukee SENTINEL, as Agent, has ceased. I shall, however, either in the SENTINEL or some other Milwaukee or Chicago paper, continue to be

NYM CRINKLE.

THE JAPANESE EMBASSY.—The recent news overland states that the Japanese Embassy to the U. S. is on its way, having before this left in the steamer Powhattan, for Panama, and from Aspinwall to Washington by the steamer Roanoke. That steamer will sail up the Potomac. The following is a list of the Embassy. When Mr. BUCHANAN receives them, he will probably remind them that their names are familiar, although he had not previously had the pleasure of their acquaintance:

Simme, Prince of Boozen, } Envoys.
Moorsaki, Prince of Awadsi, }
Ogoori Mitaitaee, chief censor.
One vice governor of the treasury.
One secretary of the first rank, (Serabay Akoo.)
Two inspectors of the first rank.
Two secretaries of the second rank.
Two treasury officers.
Two inspectors of the second rank.
Two interpreters.
Two doctors.
Fifty-three servants.

What the English and other nations have attempted in vain to secure, the Japanese have now accorded to the United States.—This is the first Embassy which has ever left Japan, for any other country. It is a triumph of American diplomacy, and will be most advantageous to the commerce of the United States. The Embassy, with the servants, will number seventy-one persons in all. The U. S. Senate have appropriated $50,000 for their entertainment while in the country. The penalty for leaving Japan was formerly death, and when any sailors were blown out to sea beyond certain limits they were never allowed to return. The law was first relaxed in favor of the United States.—The Embassy is expected to arrive in a few weeks.

THE SPRING ELECTIONS IN MICHIGAN.—Complete returns of the town elections in Michigan, show that the Republicans have elected 416 Supervisors, and the Democrats 202. Republican majority 227—a nett gain of 21 since last spring.

The Cities Annexed to Sardinia.

But it is not merely additional territory and population that Sardinia has acquired. The sceptre of Victor Emmanuel is now swayed over some of the noblest cities of Italy and the most interesting in the world. When Lombardy was ceded to Sardinia we took occasion to speak of the importance and splendor of Milan; but by the acquisition of Tuscany the Sardinian crown gains Florence, as Rogers says in his "Italy," "of all the fairest cities on earth, the fairest"—one containing greater treasures of art than any city in Europe, excepting Rome, and one rendered sacred to the student and artist by the memories of the great men who once trod its streets: Michael Angelo, Dante, Petrarch, Boccaccio, Da Vinci, Cellini, Amerigo, Vespucci, Giotto, Brunelleschi, and others prominent in the history and art of Italy. A city so well known as Florence needs no description from us here. Its monarch had in the Pitti Palace a royal residence nobler even than the Tuileries, Schonbrunn, or Windsor Castle, and Victor Emmanuel's capitol and palace at Turin offer no such regal grandeur as this new provincial that lies in the vale of the Arno, and is guarded by the Appennines, with Fiesole and Bellosguardo standing like mountain sentinels outside its massive walls.

Then but a few miles distant is Sienna, a city of over twenty thousand inhabitants, with streets rich in mediæval architecture, and a cathedral, which, out of Italy, would be considered a miracle of splendor. There is Lucca, with a population of about twenty-five thousand, in a rich agricultural district, with a modern aqueduct rivalling in extent and elegance those of Roman antiquity, and connected by railways with Florence. There is Pisa, with twenty-one thousand souls, its university, its memories of Byron and Shelley, and its inevitable leaning tower. There is Arezzo, where Petrarch was born, and, more important than all but Florence, there is Livorno—outrageously Anglicised into the uneuphonious Leghorn—a flourishing seaport, with a population of seventy-five thousand, and more commerce than any town in Italy, excepting, perhaps, Naples and Genoa. Turning towards the east we find Parma, with about forty-one thousand inhabitants; both quietly prosperous towns, rather sleepy, to be sure, but no insignificant acquisitions.

Beyond these is Bologna, which, with its seventy-five thousand inhabitants, was formerly the second city of the Papal States. Its university is world-renowned, and though the city may not boast the architectural grandeur of other Italian towns, its buildings, as well as its people, have an independent character of its own. A little further is Ferrara, with thirty thousand inhabitants, a grand palace, and somewhat gloomy reminiscence of the house of Este and our operatic friend, Lucrezia Borgia. Still further, and near the coast, stands with half oriental relics of Honorius and Theodoric, of Gothic kings and Byzantine monarchs. There, too, is the tomb of Dante

"Once in the Adrian Sea, Ravenna,"

"buried, like Scipio, by the upbraiding shore."

Following the seacoast, we soon come upon Rimini, once the seat of a learned and refined court, and yet containing a cathedral in which are buried the illustrious dead of that period, a sort of Pantheon, which gave to England the idea of Westminster Abbey.

THE ENGLISH PRIZE FIGHT—TIDE CHANGED.—Much interest was excited in sporting circles this morning by a private letter from a friend of the pugilist Heenan, who states that the time of the fight has been changed to Friday next, the 14th inst. This, it is understood, is to evade the authorities, who are determined to prevent the encounter. The same letter represents Heenan to be in splendid fighting order.—N. Y. Post. 10th.

CHAPTER 308.

AN ACT to facilitate and authenticate the formation of a corporation, by the purchase of the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad Company.

The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In case the railroad of the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad Company, or any part thereof, shall be sold by virtue of any mortgage or mortgages, or deed or deeds of trust, either by foreclosure or other proceedings in law or equity, or by advertisement, in pursuance of a power or authority in any such mortgage or deed of trust contained, the purchaser or purchasers in any such case, his or their associates, successors or assigns, if desiring to form a corporation, under or by virtue of the laws of this State, may file in the office of the Secretary of State of this State, a certificate, specifying the name of the said corporation, the number of directors and their names, for the first year, as designated in said certificate, or as elected by the said purchaser or purchasers, their successors, associates or assigns; which certificate shall be signed by the said purchaser or purchasers, or the survivor of them or their, or his associates or assigns and upon the filing of any such certificate, the persons who shall be named therein, shall be a body politic and corporate by the name stated in such certificate, and the said corporation shall possess all the rights, privileges, powers, and franchises and immunities acquired by the said purchaser or purchasers, or possessed by the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad Company, by virtue of the charter of said company and of any law of this State; and shall likewise have power, by a vote of a majority in interest of the stockholders of the said corporation, and by instruments in writing, to assume any liabilities secured by any previous mortgage or mortgages, to that under which said sale and purchase is made, with the restrictions and limitations hereinafter mentioned.

SEC. 2. The stock basis of the said new company shall not exceed seven millions and five hundred thousand dollars.

SEC. 3. The said corporation shall have power to issue as many classes of preferred stock as there are mortgage liens upon said road, and as may be agreed upon by those to interest, not exceeding in amount four millions and five hundred thousand dollars, but no dividends shall be declared in any one year beyond eight per centum, until the capital stock of said company shall have been reduced to six millions of dollars.

SEC. 4. The preferred stockholders of the first and second classes, shall elect the directors under the new organization, until a dividend shall have been earned on all the preferred shares of the several classes, when all of the preferred stockholders shall elect the directors until a dividend shall have been earned on all the shares of the said company, both preferred and common stock, and thereafter all the shareholders of said company shall elect the directors.

SEC. 5. The directors of the said corporation shall have no power to borrow money, or mortgage the said railroad, its franchise or any of its property, unless duly authorized by a vote of two-thirds of the preferred stockholders in amount, but such power or authority shall not be granted except at some general or special meeting of said preferred stockholders, of which thirty days' notice shall be given of the object of said meeting.

SEC. 6. All expenses of operating said railroad shall be paid monthly from its earnings before any of its earnings shall be applied to the payment of dividends to any of the preferred stockholders, not exceeding eight per centum in any one year, shall be invested in the purchase of the preferred shares of said company, until they shall command par in the city of New York, or until the preferred shares shall have been reduced in amount to five millions of dollars; and thereafter the surplus earnings shall be invested in the purchase of the common stocks, until the whole capital stock of said company, both preferred and common, shall have been reduced to six millions of dollars, and shall earn a dividend on that amount; said stock to be cancelled as fast as purchased.

SEC. 7. When the capital stock shall have been reduced to six millions of dollars, and shall have earned a dividend on that amount, in any one year, equal to seven per cent. on the dollar, dividends shall be declared on all the stock of said company, instead of purchasing and cancelling the shares as aforesaid, unless otherwise determined by a vote of two-thirds in amount of all the stockholders.

WM. M. GRISWOLD,
Speaker of the Assembly pro. tem.
BUTLER G. NOBLE,
Lieut. Gov. and President of the senate.

Approved March 31, 1860.

ALEX. W. RANDALL.

SHARP AS A NEEDLE.—The following bon mot was started out West:

A busy housewife was sitting in the doorway plying her needle. Her husband, lounging on the rail, his foot slipped and he bruised his knee on the door stone. "Oh," said he groaning, "I have broken the bone, I'm sure." "Well, then," said she, holding up her needle, with its eye broken out, "You and I have done very nearly the same thing." "How so?" "Why don't you see," said she, "I have broken the eye of the needle, man, and you have broken the knee of the idle man."

SHARP BUT JUST.—At Dieppe, in France, a famous bathing place, there is a police established, whose duty it is to rescue persons from danger. The following notice was recently issued to them: "The bathing police is requested, when a lady is in danger of drowning, to seize her by the dress and not by the hair, which oftentimes remains in their grasp. Newfoundland dogs will also govern themselves accordingly!"

A LOST LOVE.

So fair, and yet so desolate;
So wan, and yet so young:
Oh, there is grief too deep for tears,
Too seal'd for tell-tale tongue!
With a faded flowret in her hand.
Poor little hand, so white!
And dim blue eye, from her casement high
She looks upon the night.

Only a little rose-bud,
Only a simple flower—
But it blessed no more as it seem'd to bloom
Through many a lone, lone hour.
As they float from her fever'd touch away,
The petals withered and brown,
All the hopes she deem'd too bright to be dream'd,
Sink trembling and fluttering down.

It needs no hush of the present,
To call back the sweet calm past:
The lightest summer murmuring
May be heard through the wintry blast;
And the wind is rough with sob and with sough
To-night upon gable and tree,
Till the bare elms wail like spectres pale,
And the pines like a passionate sea.

But she thinks of a dreamy twilight
On the garden walk below,
Of the laurels whispering in their sleep,
And the white rose in full blow.
The early moon had sunk away
Like some pulare queen to die
In the costly shroud of an opal cloud
To the June air's tremulous sigh.

All, all too freshly real:
The soft subdued eclipse,
Hand in hand, and heart in heart,
And the thrill of the wicked lips:
Those tender memories, how they flush
Pale cheek and brow again,
Though heart be changed, and lip estranged,
That swore such loving then!

'Tis but the old, old story
Sung so often in vain;
For when all the freedom of passion,
For woman the calm and the pale,
Tell it the soul whose griefs is read
In the poor, pale suffering face,
It will still cling on to love when is gone
With the warmth of its first embrace.

Oh, 'tis well for the careless spirit
To weave the web of rhyme,
And prison the like memories
That flout on the breath of time?
But better for many an aching heart,
If ever it might be so,
To forget, to forget the light that has set,
And the dreams of long ago.

BERLIN CORRESPONDENCE OF THE BOSTON TRAVELLER.

German Reputation for Honesty—How far Deserved—Forms which American and German Dishonesty Respectfully Assume—Suppression of Everything in the Newspapers—Fire Companies and Fire Regulations in Berlin—Arts and their Relation to the Army—Prussian Peasantry and Wages—Shin Money Guess-Cards of Sojourn—The Stranger's Tax.

BERLIN, March, 1860.

EDITORS OF THE TRAVELLER:—The Germans have a very good name for honesty, and in matters of public faith and mutual credit on a large scale, I grant the name is rightly bestowed, for there are few failures in business, and very little dishonesty in the management of stocks. But there is a wide difference between American dishonesty and German dishonesty, for, of course, since both nations are human, both nations have human faults. I think there is as much dishonesty among us as in Germany, but in America men do not cheat for trifles; if they peril their names and their souls they demand a good round return in money value.

The Germans, when they are dishonest, cheat on the smallest scale, for to a German five or ten cents makes a heap of money. If you go to a store and get a few trifles, you may expect that in nine cases out of ten a few groshen will be added beyond the true amount. If you hire rooms of a landlord, you may expect that in summing up the cups of coffee which you have taken for breakfast, he will "extenuate" the mouth into thirty-three or thirty-four days; and in all petty dealings you may safely set it down as a general principle that you will be cheated little by little, but never beyond a few groshen at a time. An American does differently; he disdains such petty work, but when he cheats you it must be for dollars, not for cents.

If one were to judge of German thefts and fires and robberies and the like, that nation would be put down as beyond comparison the most honest and noble in the world; for you look daily through the papers in vain to find those voluminous accounts which make up so large a portion of an American newspaper, and so you draw naturally the inference that the nation is free from all such troubles. But the inference is a most unfair one, and unfair from the reason that nothing of this sort gets published in a German newspaper; they are as silent as death about thefts and fires and accidents and all such things.

A gentleman told me yesterday an anecdote to the point. He was not long ago congratulating a German on the great benefit of such a strong body of police in the city, in suppressing troubles of all kinds, when the German replied, "Yes, that is true, it is very quiet indeed; but only this past night, there has been a murder committed and a house burnt within ten rods of you, and just back of where you live." Not a word of that gets into the papers. Now it may be for and it may be against the Germans to do this;—it is a hard question to decide which is the better way, theirs or ours. Ours gives the untrue impression that there is no such thing as safety with us, theirs that there is no such thing as danger with them. I think I like their way the best; but it is a nice question to decide. But one thing is sure, there is certainly as much theft here as with us, though no report of it sees the light.

I was speaking a moment ago about fires. The system here is certainly admirable both as regards safety and promptness. The fire company is under the direct supervision of government, as is indeed everything which pertains to the public good, and the members of the fire department are in direct connection with the great police force of the city. A complete telegraph system connects the parts of the city together, so that there is no outcry and alarm, but the silent working of the lightning does the whole. The first intimation you have of a fire, is the darting at great speed of the engines drawn by horses and attended by the liveried firemen, each bearing an axe. Where the house is burning, an immense police force immediately gathers and takes possession. They encompass the house completely and allow no one to go near, and so prevent all those cruel thefts which are so common in our American cities. And to prevent this in a great thing; and it will be a glad thing for us in our great cities when we have a similar arrangement, for whatever harsh things I may now or hereafter have to write about the Germans and the German character, there is nothing which I can comment on with more severity than I can upon the cruel heartlessness which is displayed among us when fires occur in the night, and furniture and household goods have to be brought out into the open air to become the booty of those wretches who prowl around to take advantage of circumstances which should only awaken sympathy and pity.

A fire here is very soon extinguished. The arrangements are so perfect that a man may quietly lie in his bed in the adjoining house, and only rise if he finds the walls growing uncommonly hot around him. Then he may quietly dress and leave, for there will be no rush, no noise and no confusion.

And the functions of the police on these occasions leads me to speak of this force in Berlin. The police is a regular part of the army, and wear an army uniform, and are hardly to be distinguished from the regular corps. Here in Berlin there are stationed about thirty thousand soldiers, of whom nearly seven thousand are the regular police force. The entire Prussian army comprises about one hundred and twenty thousand men, of whom you will see that the greater part are regularly stationed in Berlin.

The entire expenses of the Prussian Government amount to about seventy millions of dollars yearly, about what ours did in the United States some ten years ago, and of this seventy millions about half goes to support this idle, useless army; whose great function is to keep the people in awe of the King.

This year there have been three hundred thousand men under arms, but that was in view of the impending war. The soldiers' daily pay is but ten cents per day, Mr. Buchanan's ideal being realized in their case, and yet this paltry sum, paid to so many thousands, draws hard on the public purse. To raise this great sum, all kinds of taxation are imposed, direct and indirect. As Prussia is not a commercial country, and has but three good ports, internal taxation is much relied on, and all kinds of produce brought from the country to the city are taxed at the gates, some articles being for municipal and some for general general government expenses.

Everything is taxed, over-taxed, and the only people who get off lightly, I believe, are the strangers who remain unnaturalized within the country, and receive its protection without being directly taxed. Of course, strangers pay their share indirectly, and, in fact, are overcharged for everything; but the only direct relation which they have with the government is to pay for passport vises, and for permission to tarry within the cities. Of this last, let me say a word. I came to Berlin intending to spend a few months, and within twenty-fours of my arrival it is necessary for me to send my passport to the Bureau of Police, and to receive from them a card of sojourn, for which I pay about ten cents a month, and which I must renew every three months. This is the only direct tax that strangers pay; and they ought not to grumble at this, for they receive the full government protection They do grumble about it, indeed, and are a long time getting used to it; but surely it comes from looking at the matter from a wrong point of view; as a direct tax it is light enough, and ought to be cheerfully and gratefully paid.

At the celebration of the Schiller Festival in this city, some months since, the grand torch-light procession was not allowed to go through the streets for fear of a democratic awakening. Marvel of inconsistencies! This careless court allows Shakspeare's Julius Cæsar to be performed at the Royal Theatre, and thousands listen to the republican harangues of Brutus and Cassius, and the royal family look on and see great Cæsar die, and the thousands there are quietly drinking in the lesson of "down with tyrants," as a sponge drinks in water, and yet a torch-light procession is "dangerous."—Well, perhaps it is; if the people look at Julius Cæsar in the theatres, let them forget it, and not have place to shout freedom in the streets. GUZMAN.
